Phil Thompson's Fee.

Washington Special. An interesting story is told in connection with the closing up of the sugar bounty claims in the Treasury Department. According to the terms of an agreement enred into toward the close of the Fiftythird Congress, the Louisiana sugar bounty crowd was to pay Colonel Phil Thompson, of Kentucky, $100,000 or thereabouts for his services in getting the necessary legislation, the fee to be contingent upon the passage of the appropriation bill and the yment of the money by the United states to the claimants. As it will be remembered, Controller Bowler held up the claims and a decision of the Supreme Court had to be obtained before the Treasury partment would recognize their validity. eantime the claims had passed out of the ands of the first holders into the possession of a number of bankers in New Oreans and New York. It is now reported that Thompson has been lost sight of in the shuffle and will not see anything of his $100,000 except the moderate cash retainer that he secured at the beginning of his work. Colonel Thompson is not saying anything about the matter, but some of his friends are making it the subject of street-corner and hotel discussion. The ances that a congressional "attorney" has to take in earning and securing some of the large fees that are heard about come under the head of "long shots." It not secure payment for his services legal proceedings will be instituted to compel Sterling Morton's Speech. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Aug. 1 .- Hon.

Sterling Morton delivered a nonpartisan address on finance to-night in the present of a large audience. He drew comparisons between the money of the country when he came to Nebraska, in pioneer days, and now. He said then it was something substantial, such as cattle, horses, hogs, and not until the present was there an effort to create value from something which had no value as' a commodity. After explaining the origin of money and dwelling on the object of substantial coin values, Mr. Morton said:

"The sole origin, source and cause of value is human desire. When there is a demand for things they have value. When the supply remains stationary and the demand increases the value increases; when the demand ceases altogether the value is altogether gone.

"This shows clearly that the currency of a people should be readily exchangeable for those things which that people desire and demand. The currency itself must be desirable, and must be demanded by those who have things to sell. The farmer who sells cattle, swine and cereals for money finds that his customer demands the best | says over 150 persons have pledged thempossible quality of each of these things. Whoever says: 'I am in favor of the ver dollar out of the coinage, provided for in the act of 1873, was before the American people for more than two years. The debate upon its passage in the House and in the Senate occupied several columns of the congressional proceedings. Up to the time of this alleged demonetization of silver the government had, during its entire existence, coined less than nine million of silver dollars. Under the Bland-Allison act of 1878 the government 'authorized the coinage of the standard silver dollar and to restore its legal-tender character.'

"This act was to resuscitate the declining value of silver. It was to place it side by side with gold as part of the redemption money of the United States. Let it be remembered that silver had been demonetized by the act of 1853 and that the legislation of 1878 was based on the fallacy that silver dollars of gold value could be substituted for depreciated paper. The silver dollars coined before this enactment, amounting to between eight and nine mil-lions of dollars, had long before disap-peared from circulation. The decline in President Miller, of the Chicago, Mil-waukee & St. Paul, who is in New York to attend a meeting of the board of directors exceed the demand for its use. European nations omitted it from their coinage laws. They dropped it because they had already increased production continued.

"But it is impossible to cover the whole ground in a single desultory speech. Let us go back to the alleged crime of 1872. Was there a conspiracy? If so, who were markets. He adds that his road is not planning any extensive improvements or large expenditures in any direction until the result of the election is known.

The Southern Pacific is trying to secure ple, and the intelligence of an advanced civilization. The flatboat in which I civilization. of 1854 was by a conspiracy between capital and human ingenuity deferryized, and the steamboat took its place. This change took place because immigration and the development of the territory became too big for flatboats. Later on a conspiracy again transpired wherein capital and civilization have combined to deferryize the steamboat, and the result is the magnificent steel bridge upon which our trains cross every day.

"This Republic is not a Judas Iscariot among civilized nations. It refuses to betray honest dealing. It scorns even thirty million times 'thirty pieces of silver,' and is compelled by its judgment and its conscience to reject the importunities of those who would deliver the safety and perpetuity of the country into the hands of so-cialism, zealotry, fanatacism and dishonesty. It ignores and scorns all those who would applaud and jeer at the crucifixion of the credit of our government, which has been, and God grant that it may continue Southwestern: C. A. Beck, assistant vice president; A. W. Sullivan, general super-intendent; J. F. Wallace, chief engineer; and oppressed of all nations."

Frost for Shively.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 1.—The Democratic ratification meeting to-night was a failure. For the first time in the history of Allen, the banner Democratic county of Indiana, they failed to get out a crowd in their procession, and Democrats themselves are amazed at the complete fizzle. By actual count there were only ninety-three in the parade, including members of the band and drum corps and eight people in carriages. Prominent Democrats, who have been leaders of the party in this county for the past quarter of a century, stood on the sidewalks and refused to take part in a free-silver jollification, and would not take seats on the platform, where empty chairs surrounded the speaker. Hon. B. F. Shively, candidate for Governor.

There was absolutely no enthusiasm, but the Princess Rink was crowded, and the audience was made up largely of Republicans, who were anxious to hear any silver arguments that would be made in the Democratic opening of the campaign. It was not known until to-night what an enormous disaffection exists in the Democratic programment. cratic ranks of Allen county. Hundreds of the members of the party declare they will not give aid or comfort to the party as long as Bryan leads it.

Dunne Webster Caught. CHICAGO, Aug. 1. — Duane Webster, wanted at Butler, Ind., for the murder of Mrs. Henry Webster, his mother, and assaulting his father, probably fatally, was arrested here this afternoon. He formerly worked in a drug store here and had stolen a revolver from one of the clerks, and the weapon has been identified as the one with which he killed his mother. On arriving here he went to the house where he formerly boarded to get some clothes he had left there, and was arrested while boarding a street car to leave the city. Webster, when taken to the police station, denied that he had killed his mother, but when confronted by Sheriff Stohr, of DeKalb county, Indian, he weakened somewhat and consented to go back with the sheriff if he were protected from being lynched by a mob. He said he had been in Pittsburg before coming here. The Indiana sheriff identified him from the fact that he has a wooden leg.

Democrats Not Harmonious.

MUNCIE, Ind., Aug. 1.-The Delaware county Democratic committee met to-day to select a chairman. W. J. Hilligoss and three heats with ease, leaving the entire drawn after the fifth ballot and Postmaster John Humphries, of Yorktown, elected. It was claimed that Hilligoss was a sounding. A call was printed in the local newspapers to-day for all gold-standard Democrats to meet in the Commercial Club rooms Monday evening for the purpose of organ-izing. Some of the bone and sinew of the party is at the head of the movement.

Not Pleased with the Rating. HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Aug. 1 .- J. M. McEeth, rate commissioner for the State Foard of Underwriters, has completed his work of rerating the city. The town was officially rated in 1892 at 90 cents, at which time the public square was nearly surrounded by wooden structures. At present there are but two frame buildings on the square. The rating for the square is placed at the second rate, and off the square there is a slight advance. The rerating is not satisfactory to the business people.

Knell Released by Fort Wayne. FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 1.-Philip Knell to-day received a ten-day notice of his release subject to the approval of the Cleveland League, to whom he was under contract. Knell was farmed out to Fort Wayne and won seventeen out of twentytwo games, making the local club champion of the Interstate League. He is released to reduce expenses, being too highsalaried for the Interstate League.

Milk Sickness in Knox County. VINCENNES, Ind., Aug. 1.-Milk sickness, a disease common in the lower end of Knox county, but unknown for thirty years, has reappeared in Decker township. Ex-trustee Joseph Turner has lost several head of fine cattle, and others are affected. His grandchild died of the disease, and other members of the family are sick.
